Gonit Sora is introducing a new initiative where we shall post class notes of various topics related to an undergraduate curriculum. These notes will be based on some actual course at some university and will follow the actual classes.

The first of this series is a set of notes on Probability Theory which forms a course for the Integrated Masters programme at Tezpur University, Assam in the 8th semester. The notes can be downloaded here. These notes have been typed by Manjil P. Saikia and Rupam Haloi. Please note that these notes are not complete and we shall be regularly updating them and posting them on a separate page. In case you find any mistakes then please do not hesitate to inform us immediately.
